THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Has increased its circulation twenty-five percent during the past year. As an advertising medium it is recognized as reliable and effective.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE is without a rival in the country. The rates of advertising are always based upon circulation.

If you have anything to say to the people of the city or county you can speak to more of them through the columns of the GAZETTE than through any other medium published in the same territory.

—Mrs. E. C. Lloyd is very sick with neuritis.

—Non-dance the youthful ice foists upon comic valets, so prominently displayed in show windows.

—The first dance after Lent will be that given by the St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society on Easter Monday.

—Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32 assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Judd block, North Main street.

—Why doesn't the city set property owners a good example on such days as this by making the bridges passable and opening the gutters.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Business Men's Association will be held at their rooms this evening. A full attendance is desired.

—Willie Vankirk entertained a party of young friends at the home of his parents, Captain and Mrs. W. Vankirk, Milltown avenue, on Saturday evening.

—Both telephone lines from here to Johnston and that from here to Emerald Grove were broken down by the ice.

—Henry Carle, who has been for some time past a clerk at W. H. Ascheroff's furniture store, is now shipping clerk for the Janesville Machine Co. in place of Joseph Glass, who is in Chicago.

—There was a meeting of the Traveling Men's Association called for Saturday night, but blocked trains during the week made it impossible to have a quorum so the meeting was put over until a later day.

—A country where the snow is twenty feet deep and where the thermometer drops to fifty below, is where J. S. Clark returned from on Saturday night, when he returned from his trip through the northern part of the state.

—On Wednesday the Land League, the St. Patrick's T. A. & B. society and the Ancient Order of Hibernians will turn out to receive Justin McCarthy and escort him to Father McGinnis's residence where he will remain while in the city.

—If the citizens who suddenly found themselves in a sitting position while walking down town this morning, will send in their names to this office, we shall be pleased to use them in a petition against the system of weather distribution now in force.

—The hanging of Claverius has started Virginia papers to arguing the question: "Does hanging prevent murder?" One of our exchange suggests that, is a matter of history that cases are rare where a man is known to commit murder after being thoroughly hanged.

—A stud of twenty six fine horses among the number being "Eutopria of Connock," the finest horse in England; are now crowding the ocean, consigned to Galbraith Bros. of this city, and will reach Janesville in a few days.

—Michael Brunswick, who died in Chicago last week, was interred in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. Mr. Brunswick was formerly a resident of Footville and services were held at the Footville church this morning before the remains were brought to this city.

—Marshall Hogan last evening arrested a woman, in the first ward, on charge of petty larceny. The stolen property—some jewelry—was recovered. An examination will take place before Judge Patton to-morrow. The woman is boarding at the Ward hotel.

—G. P. Smith, of this city, has been appointed index clerk for the assembly. He is a brother of Henry C. Smith, of the firm of Vethers, Jeffries & Smith, of this city, and has been for some time past employed in the Chicago & Northwestern train despatcher's office at Madison.

—Little Charlie Castor, beloved son of Henry and Belle Castor, of the first ward, died this morning at eleven o'clock, aged eight months and seven days. Changed a life of pain and sickness to one of glory and happiness. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

—The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, February 8, at three o'clock, in the W. O. T. rooms, under the Merchants and Mechanics' Bank. All young ladies interested in temperance work are earnestly invited to attend.

—Ageside decorated toboggan drawn by Sutherland ponies and driven by a man in a bright colored blanket uniform is making the Janesville youngsters turn green with envy. The rig belongs to Galbraith Bros. and was brought from the St. Paul ice palace.

—The ladies of Trinity parish will have a sale of useful and fancy articles on Tuesday the 15th inst at the home of Mrs. O. C. Ford on North Jackson street. Friends will find there just what they are looking for, well made at a reasonable price, and a cordial welcome in addition.

—The artesian well is now 555 feet deep. The flow of water increases as the drill penetrates the Potsdam stone. Engineer Dunham, who was in the city on Saturday, informed a Gazette reporter that the well, when down to the depth of the fair ground level, would show a pressure at the surface of 22½ pounds. This will raise the water in an eight inch pipe over 40 feet.

—The municipal court has been occupied to-day with the case of the Norwegian Plow Co. against St. Sherif Henthorn. This is an action for the conversion of two hundred and fifty dollars worth of plows that were taken by the sheriff on an execution against Lynde & Atwood, of Edgerton, the company claiming to own the goods. Dunwiddie & Goldin appear for the plaintiff and Henry C. Smith for the defendant.

—The friends of Chester A. Lawton, of this city, will hear with something of surprise that he is now a happy Benedict. On last Wednesday, at Olean, New York, the ceremony was performed that united the lives of Mr. Lawton and Mrs. Estella A. McCord, of Olean, in matrimony. Mr. and Mrs. Lawton will make their home near this city, he having recently bought the farm of Alexander McQuellian, in the town of La Prairie.

—There was a very large attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Richard McGrath, which was held in St. Mary's church yesterday afternoon. The church was well filled, and the funeral procession was one of the largest that has been seen here for some time. Rev. Father Kocha conducted the services, which were very impressive, and the remains were then laid at rest in the Catholic cemetery.

—In the Rev. T. DeWitt Peak's discourse on temperance last evening a history of the anti-liquor movement was given and upon the record of sixty years past, the prediction was based that in fifteen years saloons would be a thing of the past. Mr. Peak thought that inside of that time public sentiment would be so changed that nothing but legal prohibition would be tolerated.

—East side people now have, under the proprietorship of D. J. Concanon, a newly finished, neatly fitted up restaurant, known as the "Star." It presents a very inviting appearance, and has been already to do a good business. Besides oysters in all styles, it is intended to furnish warm luncheons, such as business men, who are obliged to stay down town at meal times, will undoubtedly appreciate. Shurtleff's candy, and that of several well known eastern confectioners, will be found on the shelves, and a fine line of fruits and nuts will also be kept.

—Yesterday afternoon about half past two o'clock there was a runaway that threatened to result very seriously. A horse driven by the two daughters of John Fenning, of the second ward, became frightened and dashed down Milwaukee street at full speed. He turned sharply at Main street and the cutter was upset. One of the occupants received painful injuries about the face, but the other escaped with only a few bruises and a severe shaking up. The horse ran almost to the foot of Main street before he was stopped, cutting himself considerably on the way.

—A forty cent chamois skin, for twenty cents, at Prentice & Evenson's.

—Masses, Edmunds: About three years ago my right lung became affected and I then commenced taking Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer. I used it about nine months and that lung has never troubled me since. Last summer I had a cold and it settled on my left lung; it got fairly settled and I began to take the Cough Killer again, and now I don't cough at all. —H. W. Aldrich, Northbridge Center, Mass. Cloudy, with southeast wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 16 and 20 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 31 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 37 degrees above zero. Heavy fog with northeast wind.

For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 8 and 40 degrees above zero.

Strains and external injuries are the chief causes of weak ankles and joints. By the free use of Salvation Oil a cure will be effected in a short time.

French oil-dressed chamois skin, very cheap at Prentice & Evenson's.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems to start only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make no profit but he can make a profit by selling just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at Frank Sherer & Co., Drug Store.

RATHER ICY.

They met on the smooth, icy sidewalk. "Good morning, John, how is your farm?" But the answer never was finished.

For both ladies and gentlemen. And out on the still air there floated a wondrous big word, was it—?

Which one of them did the tall sweater? The ladies never could tell.

But two dreadful bolts in the snow crust still mark where their dignity fell.

A gentleman pompous and stately, To a lady laid just raised his hat: A slip up, and down on his knee pants. He fell with a sudden keel.

A second bolt passed and he tumbled. Then he decided to finish it.

And when all the rest of him tumbled His face struck the snow with a "Yup."

The ladies to fall down in sections. One started and tried to struggle and stand: "Just help yourself, child-like and bland. Don't stop for superficial inspections. But look for a safe place to land."

LOVE AND LAW.

A large audience greeted Milton Noble and company at the opera house on Saturday evening, nearly every seat being occupied. "Love and Law" evidently struck the popular taste. At times the audience was tumultuous with delight, and signs of approval were abundant in every part of the house. The scene is laid to New York and vicinity, and the characters are as we are met with continually. An eccentric Irish lawyer, becomes interested in the supposed daughter of an Italian organ grinder, and rescues her from her brutal parent. By the aid of a detective he discovers that she is the daughter of wealthy parents, who has been kidnapped as a child. Of course the lawyer marries her. A wealthy lady with a secret and a gentlemanly villain also figure in the play, together with a policeman, a thief, and a sassy servant girl.

Of course, Milton Noble was the star, and he won many new admirers. He was very ably supported by a company above the average. The scenery was very good. That of the first act, including a view of New York harbor, showed the Bartholdi statue on its pedestal, is prophetic and interesting. It is understood the company will appear again sometime in April.

A long felt want is Fairbank's noted Laundry Soap. Go for it—at your grocer's.

A Journal of Commerce.

Bradstreet's, the weekly financial and commercial newspaper published by the Bradstreet company, is now in its fifteenth volume, and is surpassed by none of the commercial periodicals of this country or in Europe. In the fourteen volumes already issued can be found a greater diversity of original and carefully prepared matter—facts and figures—relating to business topics than in any other periodical during the same period.

It needs but a glance at the newspapers to satisfy any one that its publishers have been ambitious rather than cautious. Files of Bradstreet's have become acceptable and almost indispensable journals for progressive business men.

Chamois skins for 75 cents worth $1, at Prentice & Evenson's, opposite post-office.

Fairbank's most perfect Laundry Soap does more work and lasts longer than any other.

"The Place Called Beloit."

When the 12:30 Chicago train reached this city to-day, an intelligent and nicely appearing passenger got off on to the depot platform, and approaching Agent Potter, who was standing near the train, inquired:

"Sir, will you please inform me when a train leaves for the place called Beloit?"

"This one, sir, will carry you to Beloit!"

"But when does the next one leave?"

"At 6:30, sir," replied Chanley.

"Thanks. Can you tell me, sir, if there is a hotel there?"

"Hotel!" ejaculated Chanley, and then remembering that he was a railroad man, and under solemn oath never to smile he solemnly assured the stranger that he believed there was at least one, possibly two, of those necessary accessories to the traveler's comfort in operation at the place.

The tourist stood buried in deep thought for a moment, evidently uncertain what to do, and then remarking, "I think I will remain here until the later train. Time passes very slowly at such small out of the way places," and walked away and took a seat in the hotel bus.

CHAMOIS SKIN.

French, oil-dressed chamois skin of superior quality, from twenty-five to fifty per cent. less than the usual price, at Prentice & Evenson's.

Don't be lugged into buying a poor porous plaster. Ask for "Pomero's Petroleum Plaster." Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice.

A Versatile Statesman.

Justin McCarthy's visit to this city has awakened great interest in this distinguished gentleman. Mr. McCarthy's versatility of genius is remarkable. He is at once a novelist, an historian, an orator and a statesman. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, a few days ago, said of him: "Few men of distinction possess the varied accomplishments of Justin McCarthy—orator, scholar, author and statesman. There are statesmen who are orators, and a few who are scholars. There are very few distinguished writers who lay claim to oratory or statesmanship."

Like Job, "his heart was good but his blood was bad." One bottle of Barlock Blood Bitters cured him. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

WANTED—TWO BEAUTY HORSES.

The Fire Department Committee of Janesville are instructed to purchase two horses for fire department use. Parties having good, sound young horses weighing between 1,400 and 1,600 pounds will please report the same to J. B. McLean, I. T. Craft or Dr. W. H. Judd, committee.

A seventy-five cent chamois skin for 50 cents, at Prentice & Evenson's.

We should economize at all times, but more especially when time is closely measured. The phases of your life can be obtained from a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Biglow's Cough Cure than a dollar bottle of any other cough remedy. It is a prompt, safe and pleasant cure for all throat and lung troubles. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

THE LAWRENCE FAILURE.

An Emphatic Denial of Some of the Statements Recently Made.

"I wish you would say," said Mr. C. B. Conrad, assignee of P. S. Lawrence & Co., to-day, "that the statements made yesterday morning in the Recorder concerning Mr. Lawrence were wrong from beginning to end. Neither Mr. King nor Mr. Sutherland are invoking the stock. Mr. Sutherland was in here a short time and looked over the stock of wall paper but that was all. The stock is now entirely in my hands. As for the statement that it will not get up between two thousand and twenty-five hundred dollars, there is even less truth in that than in the other. There is not the least doubt but what it will involve at cost prices between six and eight thousand dollars. The liabilities? I don't know what they will amount to myself. There has been no list of these made and anything said of them can be nothing but sheer fabrication."

Mr. Conrad and Mr. F. S. Lawrence are now taking an account of stock. They were very indignant to think that such misstatements should be made and Mr. Lawrence said that he would have taken recourse to law if it were possible to reach the parties in that way.

A twenty cent chamois skin for ten cents, at Prentice & Evenson's.

BATHING-STRUCK.

With a short time past Beloit has been favored with a chance to go to the theatre, a ten cent company having stopped there for a week. One of the young men of the Line City seems to have dropped unceremoniously at the shrine of one of the "leading" actresses at least his correspondence indicated something of that kind very decidedly. The actress named on the bills is Miss Williams, but in real life she is a staid and sedate matron, her husband being a member of the company. When her admirer began to put his yearnings on paper, she promptly told her better half about it and he sent one of the notes in to be published. It reads as follows:

Feb. 6, 1887.

MRS. WILLIAMS: I am aware of a certain person writing to you beside myself. In the name of heaven and seventeen small children stop writing to him. It is for your own good that I write this. Although I have not had the pleasure of meeting you I have admired your every movement whenever you appeared on the stage and have attended whenever possible. I have wanted to write before but have never had said enough. I would be very much pleased with your photograph and if you would only be kind enough to send me the one with the person I have referred to was to have I will in return send you mine if you wish. It would be a pleasure to me to correspond with you at any rate answer this. In my next I will give my real name, and a full description of myself. I am receiving good pay where I am and some day which I hope is near at hand we may meet and I can say something to you which it is impossible to say here. Hoping you will reply as soon as you receive this, I am

Very truly yours

The Beloit young man has probably not found out yet why his letter has not been replied to, but he need no longer be doubtful. He can soothe himself with the fact that his name has so far been kept from the public.

Chicurem, the most perfect preparation for softening and beautifying the skin. Its effect in removing all roughness and redness is almost magical. By its use the skin is rendered soft, smooth and white, and preserved from all effects of frost, cold winds and hard water. No lady who values her complexion should be without it at this season of the year. If used after dressing or visiting heated departments, it will be found to be delightfully cooling and refreshing. For the nursery it is invaluable, as it is perfectly harmless. For sale by Prentice & Evenson.

It is said all things equalize themselves—the rich man gets his ice in summer and the poor man gets his in winter—Both can get the best five cent cigar in the city at Prentice & Evenson's.

And there was a mask that night, yes, and they kept it up pretty lively until morning. You see they weren't afraid of the early frost—knowing that all the druggists keep supplied with Dr. Cough Syrup, the old reliable standby.
